

Greetings! Well, here we go again. This year we are better prepared. Even though some fairs have chosen not to have a fair, there is quite a bit of enthusiasm to hosting events. We are all certainly capable of generating interest and excitement with our communities. I believe that there is light at the end of the tunnel. There is hope since Lindsay Central Exhibition is extending their fair to spread out events. I know that Blackstock and Port Perry have some great ideas. Check out the websites for news and upcoming events at our fairs. We are going to have a great summer. Keep those ideas coming. I look forward to being a part of the fair scene again. Keep well. Be safe.

Cheers!
Barry
